

Coffee & Tea of the Month

Rishi Tea

Rishi tea offers artisan loose-leaf tea, direct from tea gardens around the world. The teas are cultivated under organic and Fair Trade standards to help ensure a more sustainable future for producers and consumers.

Our tasting panel enjoyed Rishi's organic white tea called Silver Needle Jasmine. Its perfumed, silvery white leaves produce a delicate finish. For more information, go to www.rishi-tea.com.

Weaver's Coffee

Weaver's coffee brings a hand-roasted experience to 100% certified organic and Fair Trade-certified coffee. Our panel's choice was Weaver's Decaf Organic Blend, producing a full-flavored, full-bodied beverage with hints of malt and caramel.

Scapa Single Malt: Reborn!

Pernod Ricard USA and Chivas Brothers announce that Scapa single malt is being reborn as a luxurious 16 Year Old, thanks to the availability of precious older whiskies discovered in the Chivas Brothers stocks. Formerly aged 14 years, the Orkney Island whisky also has a new look that is a reflection of its Orcadian heritage. The new Scapa 16 Year Old retails for a suggested price of $75 (750 ml.).

Design Your Own Cocktail at the Conrad

Conrad Hotels & Resorts, the global contemporary luxury hotel brand of Hilton Hotels, has instituted a bespoke cocktail service called Conrattini in its bars. Guests can choose the glassware, the spirits, the mixers and the garnishes. They can rely heavily on suggestions and technical support from the Conrad's mixologists, or completely design their own concoction. "This new bar concept, which we believe is the first of its kind, celebrates each guest's individual preferences," says Richard Blamey, Senior Vice President, Brand Management, Conrad Hotels & Resorts. "We want everyone to feel comfortable ordering their cocktails the way they enjoy them most." The Conrattini is available at all Conrad's hotels and resorts worldwide.
